

SAVE*COOK*PACK*CLEAN

Professional vacuum machines for Ho.Re.Ca and domestic sector

Besser Vacuum is the Italian leader company in manufacturing vacuum packaging machines, sous-vide cooking tools and a wide range of professional equipment for the ho.re.ca. sector. Being based near Udine (north-eastern part of Italy) and having been on the market for more than 20 years with the production of vacuum machines, Besser Vacuum can now boast a prestigious know-how that is internationally recognized and rewarded. We have reached this goal thanks to the experience acquired through the cooperation with professionalists, food technologists and research and development investments.

Besser Vacuum in the world

The second generation family run company is always attentive to the needs of their area. With a passionate entrepreneurial spirit, flexibility, dynamism, technological innovations and continuous improvement, Besser Vacuum has been able to export its own made in Italy worldwide. Thanks to a subsidiary company in Mexico, a showroom in India and a major distribution network in the US, as well as many official dealers on all continents, the company aims not only to produce high quality equipment but also to ensure immediate assistance and comprehensive after-sales, with total coverage of each macro - area in the world.

Being Environment-Friendly

Besser Vacuum preserves and enriches its production with the original sense of family and natural respect for environment, being in constant compliance with environment-friendly policies and daily committed to reducing the energy waste. The company's core business is aimed to train its users to the respect for the food and its correct preservation that its own production facilities allow to obtain. The importance of supporting and ensuring the dissemination of healthy food on the tables of every country in the world with respect for the environment, using non-polluting and recyclable materials, has become a priority for Besser Vacuum.

Social responsibility, don't waste food

Besser Vacuum is everyday close to social responsibility, being involved in important and meaningful charity projects. Vacuuming food is essential, especially in those countries whereby poverty is still a main issue among people and waste of raw materials must be avoided. For this intention, Besser Vacuum has joined charity and solidarity programs which helps populations of the South of the world to preserve the food and local resources.